Careers Education & information and Advice Policy (CEIAG)

Vision

“Good careers guidance widens pupils’ horizons, challenges stereotypes and raises aspirations. It provides pupils with the knowledge and skills necessary to make successful transitions to the next stage of their life. This supports social mobility by improving opportunities for all young people, especially those from disadvantaged backgrounds and those with special educational needs and disabilities.” Careers guidance and access for education and training providers DfE Jan 2018

It is the vision of the school that all students should aim to ‘Work hard, be kind and do the right thing’ in all aspects of their education and become employable young people by the time they leave school. We recognise that guidance should be provided that is in the best interests of the young person; it is presented in an impartial manner and that good careers guidance is distinctive to the needs of individual students.

Students need a planned programme of activities to help them choose 14-19 pathways, and beyond, the right for them all to manage their careers, sustain employment and achieve personal and economic well-being throughout their lives. This will take into account each student’s abilities, needs and preferences.

The overall aim is the provision of high quality and effective careers guidance for all students at The Becket School. This supports the overall aim of the school, which makes the personal development of the individual central to our work.

Careers education, information, advice and guidance has a major role in the school’s commitment to lifelong learning. We aim to ensure that all students who leave The Becket School have the very best preparation for adult life and all of our practices are geared to this purpose. The school recognises the significant contribution that careers can play in raising achievement and striving towards equality of opportunity and outcome. For this reason, implicit and explicit careers links are made in our teaching and learning of students as well as the pastoral care students receive throughout their time at the school. The provision of high quality information and guidance services will support the raising of the participation age by encouraging and supporting young people to remain engaged in education and training.

Aims and objectives

The careers education programme at The Becket School is designed to meet the needs of all students. It is personalised to ensure progression through activities that are appropriate to students stages of careers learning, planning and development and to strengthen their motivation, aspirations and attainment in school. Our aims and objectives are as follows:

- To provide a range of activities that inspire young people

- To enable students to develop the knowledge and understanding of themselves as individuals – their strengths and limitations, abilities, personal qualities, potential, needs, attitudes, values
- To raise aspirations and increase awareness of the world in which students live and the wide range of education, training, employment and other career opportunities that are available. This will include awareness that gender should not limit career choices.
- To build strong links with employers and employees who can help to boost young people's attitudes and employability skills and inform them about the range of roles and opportunities
- To enable students to make informed choices about their own continuing progression and development in education or employment.
- To enable students to cope with change and manage effectively the transition from school to continuing education, working and adult life.

Students are entitled to CEIAG which meets professional standards of practice and which is delivered by trained staff and is student centered, impartial and confidential. Activities are embedded in the curriculum, delivered during form activities or assemblies, through discrete Stop the Clock Sessions and other planned events where the timetable is suspended.

Commitment

The Becket School recognises that it has a statutory duty to provide impartial careers information, education and guidance; the scope of this provision was extended to Year 8 to 13 from September 2013. The school has a Careers Advisor who supports the careers programme and works closely with our vulnerable students and with other outside agencies including the Local Authority, to provide extra support as required for some of our students.

The CEIAG Policy is under-pinned by the following:

- Gatsby Foundation report on Good Career Guidance 2014
- Careers Guidance and access for education and training providers Jan 2018
- Careers Guidance and Inspiration in Schools, DfE April 2017
- Participation of Young People in education, employment or training DfE April 2014 • Careers Strategy: making the most of everyone's skills DfE Dec 2017
- Careers guidance in schools, colleges and universities. House of Commons Briefing Paper 5 July 2016

Development

The policy was developed in discussion with teaching staff, the school's key leaders responsible for CEIAG, students, parents, governors and external partners.

Implementation

Careers Education is delivered through PSHE (Stop The Clock) which is taught by our pastoral tutors in Years 8-13. This programme includes careers education sessions, careers guidance activities (including individual mentoring interviews), information and research activities, use of on-line resources, work related learning (work experience in Year 10 and Year 12) and individual learning and planning activities. Other focussed events are provided at different times of the year to appropriate students e.g. Year 8 options evening, Year 11 information evening, Year 12 careers week and Year 12 Higher Education Event. Work Experience provision is provided for the full cohorts of Year 10 and Year 12, although extra more targeted support is provided to identified vulnerable students. Student voice is actively used in the evaluation of activities through feedback forms. Students are educated to not consider certain jobs because of stereotypes. Equal opportunities are at the forefront of provision. through Stop the Clock sessions, Enrichment Days, tutor time, assemblies, Information Evenings and sessions with visitors. In addition to this, at Post 16 in Year 12 there is a dedicated programme to support careers guidance and information.

The curriculum is also seen as an opportunity for all teachers to link curriculum learning with careers. STEM subject teachers highlight the relevance of STEM subjects for a wide range of future career pathways.

The school supports students to make choices about the full range of options at 16 and 18. Information is provided on the range of education or training options, including apprenticeships and technical education routes. As well as supporting progression to University the school makes pupils aware of other options such as Higher Apprenticeships and jobs with training to enable them to make informed choices. A Higher Apprenticeship Event is also run for students and parents in an evening.

Pupils are made aware that if they do not gain a grade 4 or above in English and Maths at GCSE Level they will be required to continue working towards obtaining them up until the age of 19.

The careers education programme is designed to meet the needs of students at The Becket School. It is differentiated and personalised to ensure progression through activities that are appropriate to students' stages of career learning, planning and development and to strengthen their motivation, aspirations and attainment at school.

The school aims to create a learning environment which allows and encourages pupils to tackle real life challenges which require them to manage risk and to develop their decision making, team building and problem solving skills.

The school acknowledges that there is strong research evidence about the impact of employer engagement on students' future prospects and earnings in adult life. Opportunities to make contact with real employers and employees will be provided not only to inspire pupils but to challenge pre-conceived ideas about jobs and broaden horizons.

The focus is on:

- Self-Development; understanding themselves and the influences on them
- Career Management make and adjusting plans, to manage change and transition
- Career Exploration - To investigate opportunities in learning and work

The development of entrepreneurial skills for self-employment are encouraged, including potential barriers whilst ensuring that they understand that working for themselves is a viable option.

The school also ensures that students are made aware of out of school opportunities that could help them with their career aspirations such as the National Citizenship Service, Duke of Edinburgh and other voluntary and community activities.

The school maintains appropriate working relationships with Further and Higher Education providers, employers, the voluntary and community sector, training providers and other schools and colleges through meetings, email contact and cross-curricular work.

Counselling and Guidance

The school provides educational and vocational guidance to all students who need it. Students will benefit from face-to-face discussions with a range of people, including:

- Role models and inspiring individuals from the careers to which they aspire
- Former students who can pass on the benefits of their experiences
- Mentoring and tutoring in school. Face-to-face guidance will be accessed where it is the most suitable support for students to make successful transitions.

Careers interviews are arranged through an independent careers adviser who interviews those students and who are identified as needing additional input.

The school is mindful that young people with particular vulnerabilities, including Looked After, those on a Child in Need or Child Protection Plan, with SEND or on alternative Provision will need additional support and will ensure that careers guidance is differentiated, where appropriate, and based on high aspirations and a personalised approach. Where a student has an Education Health Care Plan, all reviews of that Plan from Year 9 onwards will provide a focus on preparing them for adulthood, independent living, employment and participation in society. Targeted Support is accessed for those identified vulnerable students at risk of becoming NEET (Not in Education, Employment or Training)

Sixth form students are given careers guidance when appropriate during their 1:1 interviews alongside their tutors throughout the year. All teachers play an important role in counselling and guidance. Teaching staff deliver careers work relevant to the subject being studied and signpost students as appropriate. Staff and students should be aware that the PSHE and Careers advisor is available to offer information and guidance
